John and Cindy France founders
Homegrown Organic Farms Porterville, CA

“We only offer to you what we trust to our own families.”

A Family of Family Farmers

In 1998, John and Cindy France faced a challenge: Their organic farm was doing well but they needed a better way to market and sell their fruit. They founded Homegrown Organic Farms, a company that represents a group of like-minded farmers. By working together, they help each other prosper. Today, Homegrown represents over 100 different organic growers.

A Fruitful Enterprise

Homegrown Farms members produce a variety of delicious organic fruit including:

- Blueberries
- Oranges
- Lemons
- Grapefruit
- Clementines
- Limes
- Apricots
- Plums
- Pomegranates
- Grapes
- Persimmons
- Pears
- Peaches

They also offer a line of organic freeze-dried fruit, great for snacking, in smoothies, on salads or in baked goods.

Giving Back

Homegrown farmers have made philanthropy an important part of their mission. The growers partner with Abundant Harvest to provide fresh, “cosmetically challenged” fruit to charities throughout California.
